Welcome 13th Dietetic Intern Class

Food and Nutrition Services would like to welcome its 13th class of Dietetic Interns. The four interns started July 27th and will spend the next ten months learning and developing skills in the areas of School Food Service Management, Clinical Dietetics, and Community Nutrition. Once they complete the program, they will be eligible to become Registered Dietitians. The intern class this year hails from Minnesota, New York and Rhode Island. Welcome to:

Amanda Bot - University of Minnesota

Heather Brunette - University of Rhode Island

Deborah Gavia - Marymount College and New York Institute of Technology

Alexandra TePoel - Rochester Institute of Technology
